Software Development for Research

My software projects are more related to creating complex software artifacts than developing traditional industrial software (e.g., Inventory Management). Source: http://pleger.cl/software.

EMAjs: JavaScript library that implements an Expressive and Modular Activation mechanism for context-oriented programming. https://github.com/pragmaticslaboratory/EMAjs, 2022.

CommerceSimulator: Java software to simulate buyers in e-commerce like Amazon, AliExpress, and Wish. This simulation considers the endorsements theory. Finally, this software can be used to execute different kinds of experiments. https://github.com/pleger/ABME-market, 2021.

DeloreanJS: A back-in-time debugger for JavaScript. This software is strongly developed by Felipe Ruiz (felipe.ruiz@alumnos.ucn.cl) and Guillermo Victorero (guillermo.victorero@alumnos.ucn.cl). You can try it on http://pleger.cl/sites/deloreanjs. https://github.com/pragmaticslaboratory/deloreanjs, 2019.

AspectScript: An aspect-oriented extension of JavaScript for expressive AOP, which integrates several state-of-the-art features related to higher-order programming and expressive scoping of aspects. https://pleiad.cl/aspectscript, 2010.

Matcher Cell: A JavaScript library to flexibly match patterns. You can try it on https://pragmaticslaboratory.github.io/matcher-cells-study-cases. https://github.com/pragmaticslaboratory/match-cell-base, 2021.

RAI-JS: A JavaScript library for Context-Oriented Programming (COP), which supports reactive activation mechanisms. You can try it on http://pleger.cl/sites/raijs. https://github.com/pleger/rai-js, 2019.

Sync/CC (proof of concept): A library to address callback issues on JavaScript. You can try it on https://pleger.cl/synccc. https://github.com/pragmaticslaboratory/synnccc, 2019.
