Software Development for Research

My software projects are more related to creating complex software artifacts than developing traditional industrial software (e.g., Inventory Management). Source: https://pleger.cl/software.

SBABM: An agent-based model to simulate the e-commerce behavior between agents and markets. https://github.com/pragmaticslaboratory/SBABM, 2023. [APPLICATION].

EMAjs: JavaScript library that implements an Expressive and Modular Activation mechanism for context-oriented programming. https://github.com/pragmaticslaboratory/EMAjs, 2022. [LANGUAGE].

CommerceSimulator: Java software to simulate buyers in e-commerce like Amazon, AliExpress, and Wish. This simulation considers the endorsements theory. Finally, this software can be used to execute different kinds of experiments. https://github.com/pleger/ABME-market, 2021. [APPLICATION].

DeloreanJS: A back-in-time debugger for JavaScript. This software is strongly developed by Felipe Ruiz (felipe.ruiz@alumnos.ucn.cl) and Guillermo Victorero (guillermo.victorero@alumnos.ucn.cl). You can try it on https://pleger.cl/sites/deloreanjs. https://github.com/pragmaticslaboratory/deloreanjs, 2019. [APPLICATION].

AspectScript: An aspect-oriented extension of JavaScript for expressive AOP, which integrates several state-of-the-art features related to higher-order programming and expressive scoping of aspects. https://pleiad.cl/aspectscript, 2010. [LANGUAGE].

FASOW: FASOW provides an Open Implementation for Agent-Based Models applied to e-WOM Marketing Campaigns. This software is strongly developed by Diego Nuñez (diego.nunez.trabajo@gmail.com). https://github.com/pragmaticslaboratory/fasow, 2024. [LIBRARY].
